web site self-audit form

This form is to help you determine the effectiveness of your web site and decide if it is time for a re-design. The following ten questions are specifically designed to help you audit your current web presence. (If you would also like to have Dragonfly Manor Design Studios review your current web site and provide feedback, then just e-mail your URL and we will do that for you at no charge).

10 Easy Questions

to determine if it's time to re-design your current website.

Simply mark TRUE or FALSE for each question

	TRUE	FALSE
Your company's services or target audience has changed?
Your site structure is fixed - adding pages can be difficult?
Your web site is over two years old? <small>(Technology changes quickly. A two year-old web site has been outdated by larger screen sizes, faster connections, and new media)</small>
You haven't been able to determine if your web site has been profitable for your business?
Your customers don't compliment you about your web site?
Your web site takes too long to download?
You don't have the ability to make instant changes to your site yourself?
You feel your current web site promotes an unfavorable user experience? Or your competitors web site is better.
Your competitors have recently re-designed their web site?
You have limited control over the quantity and location of images, text, and pages on your site?

If you have answered "TRUE" to any of the above questions then contact Dragonfly Manor Design Studios for a no-obligation quote to re-design and develop a winning web solution for you. We look forward to assisting you.
